

Joseph Smith Saw Heavenly Father and Jesus Christ

Game 1: Question → Pray

Children carry a question-mark card to a prayer picture: Joseph had a question, so Joseph prayed. Importantly, you deliberately did not have the children reenact the First Vision.

Game 2: I Have a Question!

Hide several big question marks around the room. Children find one and bring it to the prayer picture. Each time: "Joseph Smith had a question. What did he do?" Children: "He prayed!"

Game 3: Follow Joseph's Steps

Make a tiny path: QUESTION → THINK → PRAY. Children physically walk the path, stopping at each picture. At PRAY they fold their arms.

Game 4: Find the Quiet Place

Children move around the room while you describe noisy places—people talking, animals, busy house. Then they search for the designated "quiet place," sit down and fold their arms. "Joseph went somewhere quiet to pray." We aren't pretending to be Joseph. We're experiencing one understandable part of his story.
